Dear Ms. Copeland:

As mentioned in the previous email, my mother's birthday is coming up on this Saturday (2/23) and she would love to attend religious service at a Hindu temple, and visit our home.

Kindly let me know how to proceed to implement her wishes for possibly her last birthday.

I wish to remind you that our family agreed to DSHS proposal for a settlement that allowed me to visit my mother everyday at a facility 25 miles within my home every day, and to take her out for occasions as she desires. These are negotiable or mutable. It is not my fault you were not indiscreet in following up to my report of neglect with the photo and it is clearly obvious some administrator named POS Roger (who is not a caregiver) took exception to my reporting as was obvious from our exchange. Your handling of the neglect report is partly responsible for this situation.

Kindly let us know the plans. It is ABSOLUTELY imperative she should have a happy last birthday of her life. Thanks for your understanding.

I sincerely do not wish an adversarial route with you, though my family will MOST CERTAINLY and legally hold accountable every person responsible for my mother's tragic plight.

Regards,
